Welcome to Peace and Conflict Resolution Conference 2007

This three day program will encourage participants to share their personal beliefs, ideas and experiences with the group of enthusiasts from all over the world, taking part in this extraordinary international event that will consist of following components:

Study sessions on the chosen topics related to the peace and conflict resolution issues, presentations of the accepted papers and open discussions. It is open to all of those interested and involved in building and maintaining peace in the regions of the world affected with wars, cultural, racial or other form of discrimination and oppression.

The aim of the conference is to raise awareness on the peace necessity and conflict resolution tools and techniques for its sustainability, on the macro/micro level.

This is a comprehensive and interactive program that brings people closer together, all with one mutual goal &ndash; to make world a safer place and make positive impact on their local communities, providing people with necessary knowledge and strength to change circumstances and evolve above prejudice and fear.

The conflict management and resolution study session will provide participants with practical and empirical knowledge on some of the burning questions: how to avoid lower interests, stereotypes, or political agendas in the conflict resolution? Understanding and embracing the differences in conflicted sides? Conflict assessment &ndash; involving the third party in conflict resolution &ndash; pros and cons? And many more published in the section topics of the conference webpage.

The program will benefit to different groups of people: graduate students, NGO's that handle and support peace building and maintaining and conflict resolution issues, Global/Local government agencies, Academic researchers in the field of peace and conflict resolution, members of the government directly involved in peace projects, community members that will use the knowledge and resources and bring it back to their communities.

This project is designed to have lasting effects on the lives of those who participate in the Conference, as well as members of their community. The young persons who participate will gain new knowledge, skills, and resources, which will enable them to improve their home communities and become deeply involved in the global need for peace and understanding. The participants from all over the world will become more aware of the similar problems that exist in other geo-economical parts of the world and share the gained know-how in conflict prevention and resolution.

Let's make our contribution to such a noble cause!
