

FAQ

When should I arrive?

You should arrive to Bangkok on Tuesday 1st March 2011, and be at "Royal Benja Hotel" no later than 2 p.m.

When should I depart?

Please, do not make any arrangements for your departure before Thursday, 3rd March 2011 in the afternoon.

Participants are expected to be in attendance during the entire Conference.

Where does the Conference take place?

The Conference will take place at "Royal Benja Hotel"- a very nice 3+ star hotel, conveniently located in one of the best commercial areas in Bangkok. It is close to the downtown and city attractions and of easy access to the airport.

Where will I be accommodated during the conference?

We can arrange hotel accommodation for you in "Royal Benja Hotel" (<http://www.royalbenja.th.com/index.html>), where the Conference will be taking place. It is to be paid supplementary and will costs 45 Euro per night per room, with breakfast and tax included.

You are also welcome to arrange accommodation on your own or if you have a friend or a relative living in Bangkok, you may also stay with them.

Will I have to stay in the hotel?

No, you can arrange accommodation on your own, in which case you pay only a Conference fee without accommodation costs included.

Is it possible to stay in the hotel before or after the Conference?

Yes, as long as you inform us about your planes on time we can book a hotel room for you. Please, keep in mind that March is a high season period in Bangkok and you will probably have to make reservation at least a month before coming to Thailand.

What does the Conference fee cover?

The Conference fee covers: admission to all the sessions, presentations of submitted papers, discussions, lunches and coffee breaks during the Conference, a networking dinner, closing cocktail, all the materials for following the sessions and certificate issued by Tomorrow People Organization.

Is the Conference fee reimbursable?

Please, check "cancellation policy" at the section FEES.

Do I have to submit and present a paper?

No, paper submission and presentation is not mandatory.

What is the dress code?

There is no official dress code, but have in mind that you will be meeting some company representatives and scholars from all over the world and might be a part of some formal events, so we do suggest having something appropriate for that purpose.
